BIBENDUM CHANDELIER

Inspired by the iconic curves of the famous Michelin Man, Martin Huxford has designed a perfectly circular chandelier, distinguished by the elegant rhythmic pattern of multiple shades, set against the flat angles of the mirror polished frame.

The two rings of hand mirror polished nickel stainless which form the frame of the chandelier, have a square profile, contrasting with the repeated curves of the tightly packed shades which they encircle.

The light is suspended by three long adjustable fine wires, fixed to a circular Nickel plated ceiling rose. This allows for perfect alignment, and makes choosing and setting the drop of the light, a simple task.

The elegant, harmonious design of the chandelier allows it to work in a variety of settings; as a centrepiece over dining tables, suspended in entrance hallways and hanging in multiples for larger public rooms.
